Regarding a motion made October 13 by defense attorney Boyce Holleman in the case of State vs. Charles James and Reginald E. Singleton, Judge Griffin overruled the illegal search and seizure motion and said sentencing would be handed down Friday, Oct. 24. The two are charged with possession with intent to deliver.

In the case of State vs. Edward Ray Eanes, charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver, the defendants' plea was changed to guilty, and he was released under bond with sentencing scheduled later in the term.

During cases heard Thursday, Oct. 16, Donald Wallace and Larry R. Smith, charged with burglary and grand larceny, entered guilty pleas to a reduced charge of grand larceny.

Wallace was sentenced to two and a half years in the state penitentiary and Smith was placed on probation for three years. He was also ordered to pay court costs and $500 in damages to A-1 Service Center.

Victor Glenn Maurice was found guilty of grand larceny and attempted grand larceny and was sentenced to serve five concurrent years on each charge with the sentence suspended. Judge Griffin ordered the accused to pay court costs and $125 restitution to Cathy's Jewelry.

In the case of the State vs. Ronald Baum, heard Monday, Oct. 20 the defendant pled guilty and was convicted on eight counts of receiving stolen property. In handing down the sentence, Judge Griffin noted that the defendant is the father of six children and suspended seven six-month sentences in the county jail, and ordered the defendant to pay $1,750 in fines. Judge Griffin also sentenced the defendant to a suspended five year sentence in the State Penitentiary.

Fishing is getting better by the minute. Not only green trout fishing is good but speckle trout have been caught up Jourdan River all the past week. They were caught by trolling, on dead and live shrimp. Other salt water fish caught were red fish, sheepshead, croakers, and white trout.

For you fly fishermen, green trout are hitting. Never mind about the bait as long as it has action; they will take it.

If you don't know, find out. Kaufman Bayou is down Middle River. Still fishermen are catching red fish and sheepshead right at the mouth of Kaufman Bayou.

Fly fished at Double Bayou and caught beaucoup green trout, but the tide must be falling.

Collect a lot of items for this column from Eddie Marquez's Bar. Eddie, the owner, does mostly flounder and some speckle trout fishing. Don't underate Eddie he gets his share of fish.

Speaking about Eddie met a character named Frank Blanton of Driftwood Motel. He is a retired Highway Patrolman who worked with the late Bill Kenney. Frank gets his share of fish.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK—Mrs. Louise Ewin of Shoreline Park, shows drum she caught last weekend at mouth of Jourdan River. Fish, which was caught on 10 pound test line, measured 37 inches long and weighed 24 pounds.

Cliff Foster of Memphis, Tenn., has returned home after a visit to the Bay. He and his wife got their share of fish while vacationing. Cliff is also a green trout fisherman, one of the best around Memphis.

To prove that speckles are up Jourdan River right now, Harry Roman and Hoke Ogden made a good catch last week. Harry said they were good size. That's enough for me.

Bill Keating and Aline and sons are coming to Bay St. Louis to live. They love fishing and know they can find it on the Gulf Coast. Welcome to our section, folks.

Ivo Stakelum is a member of the Bay-Waveland Gun and Rod Club. He fishes and hunts. That is all it takes to enjoy the sports that are connected with our section of Gulf Coast. Gladys also fishes.

E. George Johnston and Marie, his wife, are of Long Beach, Miss. They do both fresh and salt water fishing. Lets get together, folks.

Howard Lindley, auto body mechanic with Turan Lane Chevrolet said he does any kind of fishing and gets his share when the fish are cooperating.

Walter Golinvas, Jr., was bragging about being from the Irish Channel in New Orleans. Knows June and Dan Haggerty, my daughter, and son-in-law. Walter fishes. Catches anything that bites, he claims.

Did you know that the squirrel season is now open. There are plenty squirrel in our woods. The bushy tails make good eating. The season in La. also opened on Oct. 4 and will remain open thru Jan. 11. The rabbit season will extend thru February 28, according to J. Burton Angelle who also said that the gallinule season opened on Sept. 20 and will last through Nov. 28.

Met two men up Pearl River who had 15 bass—three of which weighed 3 pounds each. They caught them in Mulatto Bayou while casting. One was using a cripple minnow which we used 30 years ago. It is a wonderful bait but hard to get now-a-days.

Surface baits like the Repala or Hula Popper will get real results when worked properly. The old saying "The bigger the bait the bigger the fish" still holds good, even when using popping bugs.

The cooler weather ahead is good for all types of salt water fishing. Fishing on the bottom pays off. All that is needed is a couple pounds of frozen shrimp, a casting rod and a large enough line to hold large reds and up to 4 lb. speckle trout, plus a couple of flounders. Flounders are a flat fish and hold to the bottom.

If you tie into a school of speckles stay with them. Let the boat drift and keep casting. They usually go with the tide. They can be caught by casting with lures or with live shrimp.

Once upon a time there was a doctor who was noted for ego.

"Have you been to any other doctor for your illness before you came to see me," he demanded of a new, meek mannered patient.

"No, sir," replied the meek patient, "I went to a druggist."

"And," roared the doctor, "what sort of bad advice did he give you?"

"He told me to come and see you."

This conversation was also recorded in the same doctor's office.

"I cannot find much wrong with you. I think it's due to drinking."

"That's okay doctor, I'll come back when you're sober."

One of the Gulf Coast's more boastful characters went hunting for the first time this season with a DeLisle farmer.

What kind of animal is that," asked the druggist when he spotted a baby deer. "You mean you don't know?" replied the farmer, adding, "Why, man, that is what your wife calls you every morning."

"Well, whadda ya know," the druggist said, "so that is a skunk."

A few years ago a resident of the Kiln came into town with a shotgun and jug. The jug he carried in his left hand, and the shotgun, loaded, in his right.

Stopping a local Bay merchant on Main Street he said, "Here, friend, have a drink from my jug."

The merchant, with an eye on his passing customers busily witnessing the confrontation, protested violently and replied very audibly saying that he never touched the stuff.

With that the man from the Kiln leveled his gun and commanded, "Drink!" Frightened, the merchant took a big, long swig, then shuddered, shook, shivered, and choked.

"Lord," he gasped, "that's awful stuff."

"Ain't it," grinned the man from Kiln, "now hold the gun on me so that I can take a swig!"

At Monti home

Model display fills two complete rooms

Revolutionaries planning to overthrow the government may do well to check with Thomas F. Monti on deMontuzin Bay St. Louis before going seriously into business.

With 416 military pieces, 233 ships and submarines, 968 aircraft, 104 rockets, and 474 land vehicles, Monti could be considered one of the country's leading suppliers of "government overthrow" equipment.

Fortunately for Bay St. Louis, albeit unfortunately for the revolutionaries, this astonishing array of hardware is in model form and fills two complete rooms at the Monti residence.

Building models for 23 years, Monti has kept a complete log of his achievements and this book reads like a "Who's Who" (or "What's What") in Universal Progress.

Logged, and represented in the display cases, are the legendary aircraft of World War I, the Gotha, Fokker, Albatross, Hannover, Sopwith Camel, Nieuport, de Havilland, Brewster, and Spad. From the era of World War II comes Lockheed, Grumman, Douglas, Chance-Vought, Corsair, Boeing, Bear Cat, Bellcat, Avenger, TM3, B-25, each represented in the collection, and each with its history preserved for the Monti grandchildren.

Automobiles by the score, line shelf after shelf in the "model display rooms" as do buses, coaches, and navy ships from the United States, Germany, France, Russia, Vietnam, and, of course, the U.S. Coast Guard. Monti, now retired, served 26 years with Coast Electric, more latterly as assistant field engineer, is married and he, and his wife, Mary, have four children, three sons and one daughter, and eight grandchildren.

The model maker estimates he has built some 4,500 models during his lifetime.

His first were built almost entirely from balsa wood, but as more varieties became available, he tended to concentrate on plastics.

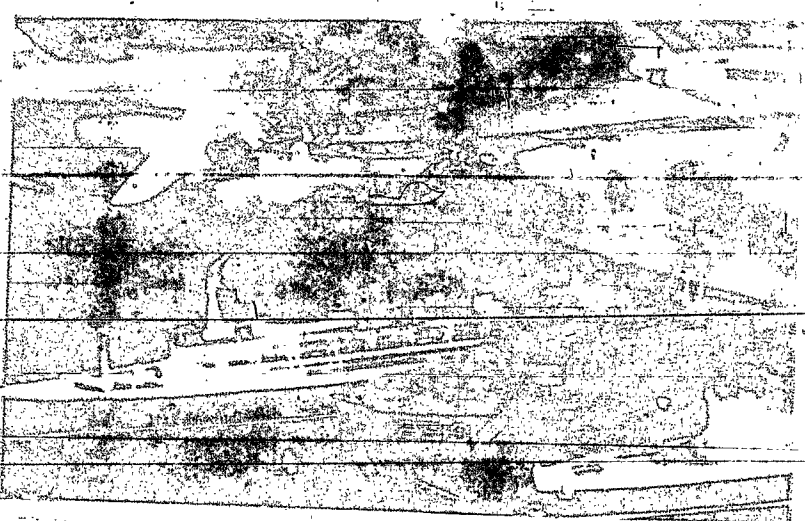

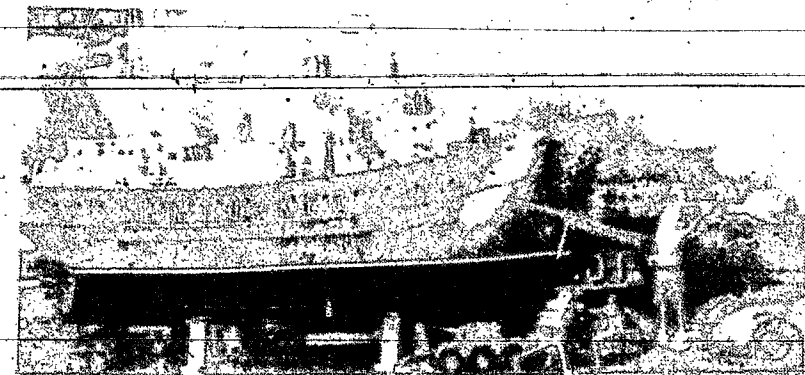

"I probably donated some 500 to 600 of my balsa models to the church for sale at their fair," Monti said, adding, "there are about 2,500 models here in the display and I have a locker full of kits waiting to be built."

Mrs. Monti has her own idea about that living room locker.

"Since he has been sick," she said, referring to a nervous breakdown Mr. Monti sustained last year, due to overwork, "he hasn't built much, although the club he belongs to keeps sending him the latest models."

"He keeps stacking all those models in my living room locker and I want it for my needlework," she concluded.

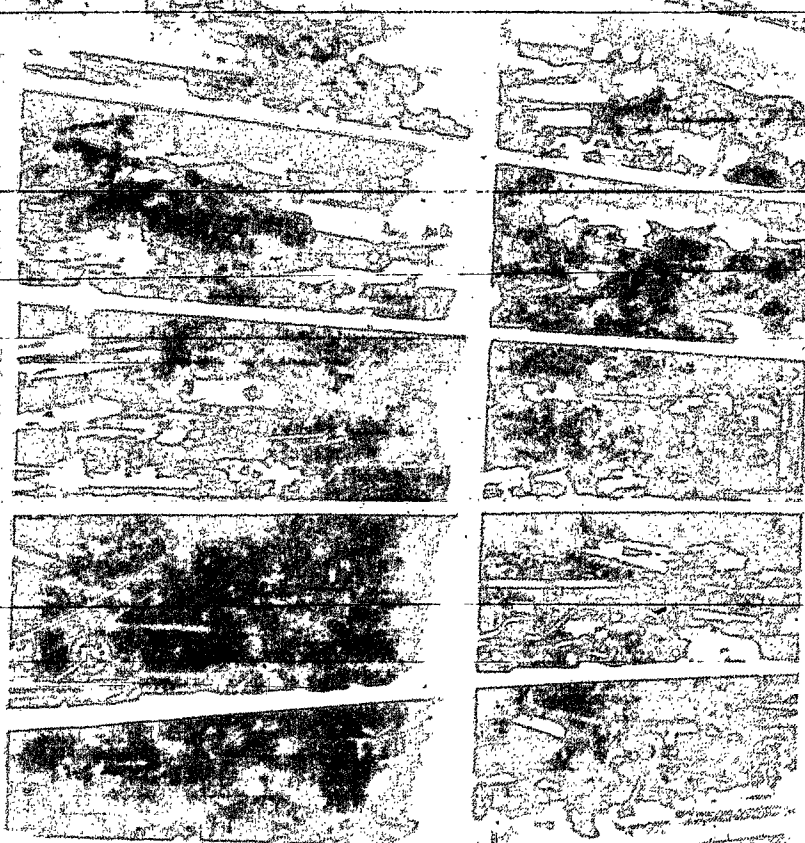

It may well be that "General" Monti will have to break out some of his more formidable and working military equipment to keep his wife out of the storage bin, or, failing that, activate a sample of trucks to haul the stuff away.

Our Choice Gil Carmichael

Voters in this state have grown tired of the double cross politics of alleged "Dixie Democrats" and Democrats for Republican Action, and Democrats for any number of things but being a straight democrat.

Frankly, we have never been able to determine what leanings or beliefs are held by Finch, the Democratic nominee, other than those being expressed in his mimicry of standard Capitol Street poop, of which we have all had enough.

Carmichael is a Republican, period!

He had never expressed the desire to be a Republican for Democratic action, or a Republican for Wallace, or a Republican for a Dixie coalition of Democratic demagogues. He is just a plain, straightforward, Republican.

If ever a politician wanted to change sides, support a movement because of its popularity, abandon affiliation because of possible, national unpopularity, this is the time. Gil Carmichael is a Republican!

Gil Carmichael thinks like a Republican but, and here is the big difference, he thinks and acts like the Republicans who were our nation's founding fathers. It is the Republic to which we swear allegiance when we pledge to our flag.

Let us digress and look at a description of Carmichael as portrayed in Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary, First Printing 1973, under its definition of "republican."

"1: One that favors or supports a republican form of government. 2: A member of a political party advocating republicanism."

And, in part, the same authority's definition of Carmichael's party, "...one of the two major political parties evolving in the U.S. in the mid-19th century, that is primarily associated with business, financial, and some agricultural interests and is held to favor a restricted governmental role in social and economic life."

In his bid for governor, Carmichael did not sacrifice these ideals. Let us look at his platform.

In the field of government, the gubernatorial Republican candidate states he intends, through a major reorganization program, to streamline state government by organizing it into twelve principal departments, from its present hodge-podge of somewhere between 136 to 175 state agencies and commissions (nobody seems to know for sure). The resultant savings would be of immediate benefit to the state.

Further, in the same vein, Carmichael has called for a tough ethics in government provision to be written into the state constitution, along with provisions for open meetings in government.

Carmichael sees a need to speed up the state's new $600 million highway program; has tabled a sound, proven plan designed to give producers and others a better return on their agricultural and seafood production; has recommended an investment of $100 million in Mississippi state parks and recreation areas (which would include additional funding to Buccaneer State Park); has called for a "very tough, very stringent" crackdown on the sale of illegal drugs within the state; has urged Mississippi to adopt a new state constitution to replace its current, 1890 Constitution, which created a wasteful judiciary system and an extremely weak executive branch; has run up a red flag against settling industry whose intent is to avoid paying a fair tax share, or ruin local environment through pollution and waste.

Open, candid, and outspoken, Carmichael is no newcomer to Mississippi politics. In 1972, for example, he shook the state establishment by polling some 40 percent of the vote in his bid for the United States Senate.

The reason for this showing is that the state's next governor has groups of strong, dedicated, grassroots supporters throughout the state as the result of his years of political activity in the Republican camp, and his consistent loyalty to issue, organization, state, and party.

A successful businessman through his own effort, Carmichael became best known on the coast following Hurricane Camille when he served on the Governor's Emergency Council, playing a leading role in restoration of the areas economy.

The Sea Coast Echo, one of the state's oldest weekly newspapers, having been founded in 1892, solidly endorses Gil Carmichael for Governor of the State of Mississippi.

We base endorsement on the man, his record, his known and proven abilities, and his platform.

We think it is enough.

We hope you do too.

Attorneys begin Fine jury selection

By DAN BARBER
and CAROLE LANGE

A lengthy jury selection was expected to consume most of all of Hancock circuit court proceedings Wednesday as prosecution and defense attorneys polled prospective jurors in preparation for the murder trial of Jimmy Ray Fine, accused of the fatal shooting of his wife, Sharon, last Dec. 14 in their Waveland home.

Jury selection was begun Wednesday morning after defense motions for a special venire and for a change of venue were overruled by presiding Judge J. Ruble Griffin Tuesday.

Griffin did agree to summon an additional 60 persons for the jury pool late Monday evening after only 26 persons were available to be sworn in Tuesday morning.

The trial hit another unexpected snarl Wednesday morning when district attorney Albert Necaise informed the court that one of the state's witnesses, ballistics expert John Dial, III with the Mississippi Crime Lab, was not present for the opening of the trial. Dial was reportedly in Quantico, Va. for an FBI Crime School Lab.

Necaise suggested a continuance of the trial until Friday or Monday of next week, but was overruled by Judge Griffin. Necaise said later Dial would be notified to fly back immediately for court appearance Thursday.

Earlier motions filed in the case last July 22 by defense attorney Boyce Holleman resulted in suppression of statements made by Fine before his actual arrest and suppression of photographs of the defendant's home.

Late Wednesday Fine's attorney, Phillip Weinberg said he expected the state to have time to call one witness Wednesday before the court recessed until Thursday morning to continue the trial.

On Wednesday, Oct. 15, in the case of State vs. Henry Spivey the defendant changed his plea to guilty of aggravated assault. He was released on bond until sentencing later this term.

In the case of State vs. Robert H. Cohen, Jr., the defendant entered a plea of guilty to the possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver. He was fined $300 and court costs and placed on three years probation.

Duane E. Kutzer, also charged with possession with intent to deliver, changed his plea to guilty and was fined $2,500 and court costs with three years probation.

Judge Griffin handed down a sentence of one year in the state penitentiary but suspended execution of the sentence for three years and ordered Alex "Buck" Cospelich to make monthly payments totaling $15 per week to the Hancock County Welfare Department for child desertion.

A plea of guilty was entered in the case of State vs. Saule and Jose Luis Cabrera, both charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver. The pair remain under bond until sentencing later this term.

Jerry C. Peters, also charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver, pleaded guilty and will remain under bond until sentencing later in the term.

Regarding a motion made October 13 by defense attorney Boyce Holleman in the case of State vs. Charles James and Reginald E. Singleton, Judge Griffin overruled the illegal search and seizure motion and said sentencing would be handed down Friday, Oct. 24. The two are charged with possession with intent to deliver.

In the case of State vs. Edward Ray Eanes, charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver, the defendants plea was changed to guilty, and he was released under bond with sentencing scheduled later in the term.

During cases heard Thursday, Oct. 16, Donald Wallace and Larry R. Smith, charged with burglary and grand larceny, entered guilty pleas to a reduced charge of grand larceny.

Wallace was sentenced to two and a half years in the state penitentiary and Smith was placed on probation for three years. He was also ordered to pay court costs and $500 in damages to A-1 Service Center.

Victor Glenn Maurice was found guilty of grand larceny and attempted grand larceny and was sentenced to serve five concurrent years on each charge with the sentence suspended. Judge Griffin ordered the accused to pay court costs and $125 restitution to Cathy's Jewelry.

In the case of the State vs. Ronald Baum, heard Monday, Oct. 20 the defendant pled guilty and was convicted on eight counts of receiving stolen property. In handing down the sentence, Judge Griffin noted that the defendant is the father of six children and suspended seven six-month sentences in the county jail, and ordered the defendant to pay $1,750 in fines. Judge Griffin also sentenced the defendant to a suspended five year sentence in the State Penitentiary.

PRETRIAL APPEARANCE—23-year-old Christopher Moore charged with murder in the rape slaying of Pascagoula school teacher Irene Hoffman last April 29 is led to the Hancock County courtroom Monday morning where defense and prosecution motions were heard before presiding Judge J. Ruble Griffin. Moore's trial is scheduled to begin Monday Oct. 27.

Fingerprints admissible

Moore motion overruled

By CAROLE LANGE

During pretrial hearings this week in the case of Christopher Moore, charged with the murder and rape of a Pascagoula school teacher, Judge J. Ruble Griffin overruled a motion by the defense to suppress a fingerprint as evidence in the case.

The fingerprint, which matched that of the defendant, was taken from the window sill of the home of the victim, Irene Hoffman.

Moore's attorney Kennie E. Middleton, of Hattiesburg, argued that the fingerprint could not be submitted as evidence, because the defendant was neither under arrest at the time, nor advised of his constitutional rights.

Joe Colingo, Assistant District Attorney for Jackson County, said Moore willingly allowed himself to be fingerprinted as he came to the Pascagoula police station voluntarily and had the opportunity to refuse to be fingerprinted at that time.

Middleton argued that the state failed to show that Moore went to the police station voluntarily. He brought out the fact that Moore's roommate, Jessie Mitchell, was told by the Pascagoula police to ask Moore to come to the station, but he asked the state to prove that Moore actually received the message.

Colingo responded by asking why Moore would come to the station if he had not received the message, and reiterated that he was there voluntarily.

Moore, 23, sat quietly with his attorneys during the hearings. He is being held in the Harrison County Jail in Gulfport and is transported here by Jackson County officials.

The trial is set for Monday, Oct. 27 at 1 p.m.

Governor's weekly roundup

Waller concludes Iran trade talks

Governor Bill Waller was expected to conclude a week of trade meetings in Iran Wednesday before traveling to Kuwait and Iraq.

Waller was scheduled to meet Tuesday with the Prime Minister of Iran, Amir Abbas Khomeini.

Before leaving on this return mission to the Middle East, Waller predicted that Mississippi may land a multi-million dollar school lunch contract with Iran.

The Governor said that a program-enriched product developed by Mississippi State University "spins an excellent one" as a prospective source for the planned $225 million animal program.

Waller said that sale of the soybean-based feedstock could "revolutionize the economy of Mississippi" and add some $10 million annually to the state's economy.

The Governor was joined on the mission by Dr. Stanley Rosenberger, Director of the Food and Drug Center at Mississippi State, and Dr. G. H. Armstrong, Coordinator of the School's Food Science Institute.

Before leaving for the Middle East, Governor Waller expressed sadness over the death of Veterans House Speaker John Durkin of Natchez.

"We are saddened by his passing," Waller said. "We recognize that his long life made great contributions to our state."

The Governor concluded, "Mississippi has lost her elder statesman. Mr. Durkin's thirty-two years of courageous, visionary leadership has shaped much of our state's progress and growth in this country."

Dr. Jim W. Meredith, Mississippi Park Commission Director, has announced a "Golden Age" plan offering reduced rates to citizens 65 years of age and over. The reduced rates program will be available starting through Wednesday on a year-round basis.

He qualified for the lower camping rate," Dr. Meredith said, "a person 65 or over must purchase a deal for his car window. The initial cost of $4.00 will then enable him to camp for only $2.50 per night."

Meredith continued, "By lowering our camping rates for the retired senior, we hope to create a greater year-round interest in our state parks. This reduced rates program will coincide with our all-season reduced rates for park visitors announced last week. The lower rates apply for October 15 - March 15 range from 15 percent off for two nights stay to 30 percent discount per week."

The Mississippi Gulf Coast Convention Center will be the site of the 1981 convention of the National Guard Association of the United States.

The Convention Complex, a $25 million facility authorized at the urging of Governor Waller in 1973, is now under construction.

At a recent meeting in Seattle, the National Guard Association Site Selection Committee chose Mississippi after viewing a filmed visitation from Governor Waller and Adjutant General E. S. Durmage.

Governor Waller has designated October 22, 1978, as "Marie Hall Day" in Mississippi.

Waller said in a proclamation, "Any reference to art in Mississippi and the South since the early part of the 20th century would not be complete without Marie Hall."

Mrs. Hall was to be honored Wednesday with a reception at the Governor's Mansion.

Mrs. Joyce Shuford, Coordinator of the Governor's Office, has tried Mississippi's senior citizens needing assistance or information to call the Governor's Hotline. She said, "Hotline personnel can provide information about needed services or act as an intermediary in solving problems with state agencies."

Mrs. Shuford said that regional information and referral services are available to citizens through the Council on Aging for assistance at the local level. Callers are given the name and telephone number of the resource person in their area of the state.

The Hotline received eight hundred seventy-six calls from seventy-seven counties during the month of September.

Veteran's Service Office

CHAMPUS enacted

Public Law 93-82, enacted by the Congress on August 2, 1973, authorized a program to provide medical care for the dependents and survivors of certain disabled veterans. According to Chester L. Curvey, Veterans Service Officer for Hancock County, many eligible persons are not taking advantage of their entitlement under the program, known as Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Veterans Administration (CHAMPVA).

Eligible to participate in this cost-sharing medical care program is the spouse or child of a veteran who is permanently and totally disabled because of disabilities which were incurred during military service. Also eligible is the surviving spouse or child of a veteran whose death was caused by a service-connected disability. Persons eligible under this program are provided with medical care identical to that furnished to the military retiree and his dependents and survivors under the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services (CHAMPUS). The reimbursement claims made by eligible participants are handled by the Mutual of Omaha Insurance Company, the Fiscal Agent for Texas. For in-patient care in a civilian hospital, an eligible person must pay 25 percent of the total cost, and CHAMPVA will pay the remaining 75 percent. There is an annual out-patient deductible amount of $50 for one person and $100 per family. After the deductible is met, CHAMPVA will provide reimbursement of 75 percent of the total cost of out-patient care, including drugs and medicines. Any person who meets the basic requirements may apply for Veterans Administration eligibility by contacting their local Veterans Service Office, following:

1. Surgery necessitating postoperative convalescence.
2. Surgery with severe postoperative residuals shown at hospital discharge, such as incompletely healed surgical wounds, stumps of recent amputation, therapeutic immobilization of one major joint, application of a body cast, necessity of house confinement, or the necessity for continued use of a wheelchair or crutches.
3. Immobilization by cast, without surgery, of one or more major joints as shown at the time of hospital discharge. The increased rating will be effective the day of hospital admission and continue for a period of one, two, or three months from the first day of the month following hospital discharge. In some instances the rating may be extended up to three months beyond the initial three-month period where it is shown that the veteran will require a longer convalescent period. In some cases when a veteran is granted a 100 percent rating under either Paragraph 29 or 30, the initial 100 percent rating period will fall short of the actual convalescent time which is needed by the veteran. If the veteran's temporary 100 percent rating is reduced back to a permanent rating of less than 100 percent, and he is still convalescing from the hospital treatment, medical records should be submitted to the VA along with a request that the temporary rating be extended.

Project Do challenges teenagers to explore talents

Project Do is a new youth movement in the Hancock and Harrison County areas that has a positive, upbeat approach to the good that teenagers can do, according to Brother Canisius Schell, director.

Approximately 60 teenagers participated in the first Project Do program Wednesday by assisting the Gulf View Haven nursing home staff with a barbecue for the residents. The young people represented Coast Episcopal High School, St. Stanislaus, Our Lady Academy, the Catholic Youth Organization, the Confraternity of the Sacred Heart, and Harbour House.

Brother Schell said Project Do is designed to involve students from the various schools and youth organizations in the Gulf Coast area in constructive activities that will fill their leisure time and give them a sense of responsibility and belonging.

Visiting shut-ins, entertaining the elderly, reading to the blind, helping the infirm, writing letters for the incapacitated, working with children and similar meaningful activities are examples of the ways a teenager can participate. Project Do will discover the many areas where the services of teenagers can be used and will make these needs known to the young people, Brother Schell said. Future projects include helping out at the senior citizens headquarters, parties for the retarded children of the area, entertaining children from Chinchuba Institute for the Deaf in New Orleans and conducting a field trip for Vietnamese children.

A native of Orange, Texas, he was a graduate of LaGrange High School, and was a business administration major at McNeese College, both in Lake Charles, La.

Married to the former Miss Mary Ann Campo of Kenner, La., the couple have two children, Gina, 8, and Thomas Kidd, 5.

A Third Degree Knight with the Knights of Columbus, a member of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, and a member elect of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, Meaux replaces Roger Fielder who has gone into business for himself, also at Our Shopping Center.

Shainberg Stores are now owned by P. N. Hirsch, Co. who operate some 382 stores with a $200 million annual business volume.

Meaux said Tuesday that the local outlet is expanding its stock lines to include a new, finer range of shoes, more working clothes, and a wide selection of suitings. Additionally, it intends to institute an extensive uniform section.

YOUR DIET

Siberian Herb Fights Fatigue

Soviet athletes take it to condition themselves for the mental and physical demands of Olympic competition. Cosmonauts find it toughens them to climatic changes and stresses. Soviet children drink it in a soft drink called "Bodrost" (vigor) and Soviet adults drink it in a vodka named "Golden Horn."

What is it? It's Siberian Ginseng, a relative of Oriental ginseng, but more abundant and more effective. It's produced, clinically tested, and certified for potency by the Soviet Ministry of Health. Americans by the thousands add as little as a quarter-teaspoon of it daily to their coffee, tea, or fruit juice for improved body tone and function.

Siberian Ginseng extract (Eleutherococcus senticosus) has been the subject of a 15-year pharmacological investigation by the prestigious USSR Academy of Sciences. The tests reveal it to be an impressive "adaptogen," which means that rather than curing a specific illness, it raises bodily resistance, as a tonic. Liquid extract of Siberian Ginseng, the form favored by USSR research teams, is now available in most health food stores in the U.S.

Pooch of the Week

Jake, named after this photographer, is a one-year-old mixed collie and is a friendly "critter". Billed as being kind to children and adults alike, Jake just plain likes people and is eager to get settled down. The Bay-Waveland Humane Society is holding adoption day from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, at the Waveland Animal Shelter. Others in need of homes include a terrier, a mixed English setter and spaniel, and a German Shepherd. Information is available at 467-3739, 467-9236, and 467-7173.

EXCITING SICILY

People who get a boot out of worldly places and pleasures can have an out-of-this-world time when they set foot on Sicily, set in the warm Mediterranean beyond the "toe" of the Italian "boot."

No far from the ski slopes on Mount Etna in Sicily has risen a resort hotel with heated indoor and outdoor swimming pools, saunas, a solarium and a gymnasium. Because it's a Holiday Inn, reservations can be made by calling any Inn.

November designated Ms. vs MS month

November is multiple Sclerosis (MS) month in Mississippi. MS is switching from their previous May-June period to November because another health agency changed from November to the May-June time and the similarity of names would have been confusing to the general public.

Many and varied events will be staged throughout Mississippi during November by the Youth and Young Adults sponsoring MS in the State. There will be a variety of Special Events, Momies and Daddies Door Bell Appeal, Ms. vs MS button sales and Pass Along Kits used. "We urge the public to join our Ms. vs MS war on Multiple Sclerosis," says Frank L. Barkdull, Chairman of the Mississippi MS Chapter.

"to help us give the Mississippi patients more than Hope for a cure, but a cure before the end of this decade."

The lay public knows very little about Multiple Sclerosis, "the mysterious crippler of young adults," all too often confusing it with muscular dystrophy, which primarily involves a wasting of muscles. Multiple Sclerosis attacks the central nervous system and is usually first diagnosed between the ages of 18 to 40. It is a disease of tragic consequence which attacks young men and women in the prime of life, those who are just beginning careers and families.

symptoms of MS. The Mississippi MS Chapter serves Patients in all of the State's 82 counties. A Loan Closet is maintained from which patients can borrow equipment that is vital to their comfort and welfare, when prescribed by a physician. Counseling and visiting services are provided for patients and their families by the Chapter.

This year there is an intensified research thrust by the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, the only national voluntary health agency conducting programs in National and International MS research, to find the cause, cure and prevention of "this mysterious crippler of young adults." Encouraging advances are being made in MS research and evidence is mounting that the basic causative factor may be a virus, an autoimmune response, or both. Chairman Frank L. Barkdull says, "I hope the citizens of Mississippi will join in the Ms. vs MS Cause by giving generously to support our Research Programs and Patient Services for their fellow Mississippians who are victims of this crippling of young adults."

Gimme an S

Cheering the St. Stanislaus Junior High Football team on to victory are Our Lady's Academy students (l-r) bottom: Beverly Hill, Renee Hirstues; middle row: Monda

Dickinson, Fran Sallinger, Delarie Ladner; top: Gwen Farve, Suzi Kergosien and Missy Treutel. These eight girls are the first to be selected for SSC's Junior High teams.

Training sessions sponsored for South Mississippi nurses

South Mississippi nurses can study two different areas of their profession in one-day November workshops at Gulfport and Jackson.

"Legal aspects of nursing" is scheduled November 12 at the Veterans Administration Center in Gulfport, and a course on infections control will be offered November 20 at the University of Mississippi Medical Center in Jackson. A Gulfport nurse is among instructors for the session on infections control.

News

In the year 1982, journalist Larry Waters, wrote an article for the Jackson Clarion Ledger about the then century old Koch house of Logtown. The house was to be demolished to make way for the NASA Mississippi Test Facility's buffer zone. The title of the article was "House Too Old To Die, Doomed Nevertheless." A subtitle read "House has Death Sentence."

Now Larry Waters was an able journalist and he well described Aunt Nettie Koch, the house in which she was born and in which she became a living legend and in which she died. But he was wrong about the house having a death sentence. No such thing! That house lives today on a beautiful lake site in a village known as St. Josephs which lies about halfway between Natchez and Vicksburg. The house survived because Peter Lutken, a nephew of Aunt Nettie, cared enough to preserve this outstanding example of early country construction.

A house built by a pioneer family and built to last. Bricks were hand made, lumber rough hewn, poles skinned the hard way, roof shingled with hand split cypress slabs and later covered with galvanized tin. A house built for comfort and convenience and from materials close at hand. A house that grew through a series of porches, breezeways and additions to accommodate the needs of those whose way of life spelled hard work and hospitality.

Bay St. Louis resident Dennis Osbourn was the man selected to carefully take apart the old house board by board and brick by brick. The house was then loaded into waiting trucks and transported to the lovely wooded site where Osbourn with infinite patience and knowledge reconstructed each room, porch and breezeway.

George Koch lives on Turner Road in Bay St. Louis. He is the grandson of Captain Christian Koch, that Logtown pioneer whose adventuresome and colorful life took him from his native Denmark to Mississippi where he became one of the first - if not the first white man to settle in the Logtown area. A man of action and independence, he was also a man of energy and thrift and his diary kept from the years 1831 through 1839 gives us an insight into the way this area looked at that time.

Koch writes of the small streams and bayous and quiet waters and woodlands where rabbits jumped and possums were treed for sport and Indians dressed in skin trousers and moccasins, brought deer hides to trading areas. He writes of Boguchoma Bayou and Pearl River and the old place he bought from "a Russ family."

Mrs. L. K. Bennett, now a resident of Bay St. Louis, was a resident of Logtown before NASA and knows quite a bit about the Old Koch house, its flower and vegetable gardens. She knew and loved Annette Koch who lived to a ripe old age and is buried in the Koch family cemetery. The cemetery will soon be visited by Koch descendants who keep the grounds well groomed and carry on the traditions of All Saints Day.

Mrs. Bennett remembers the 100-year-old boxwood - new to this area and brought from Denmark. There were large camellias on the grounds (she recalls some of them were grown from seed), and there were fragrant Louis Philippe roses and giant live oak trees. Many of these shrubs and plants were dug and transplanted around the home after its reconstruction.

"It was Peter Lutken's son who was especially concerned with transplanting the shrubs and other plants," Mrs. Bennett said.

In describing the home, Waters wrote "the front and side porches were for sitting and resting. The front steps for standing and gazing at the flower garden."

The article concluded by saying "The century old Koch house died reaching for the moon." Not so. The old Koch house is still a hospitality home - a legend - and a show place.

ENERGY EXPENDITURES

Mercy! What next? One week the President comes forward with his plan to save taxpayers' money and give us a tax cut. Then the next week he proposes a $100 billion crash program to create an Energy Independence Agency (EIA). To say the least, he caught me by surprise.

I know we all feel the urgency of our energy situation, and I, for one, am painfully aware of the fact that the Congress has failed to do anything constructive in the way of an energy policy, despite the President's urging. Nonetheless, Mr. Ford will have to come forward with a pretty powerful plan before I'll invest my portion, and yours, of that $100 billion in it.

First of all, the plan was the brainchild of Vice President Rockefeller, while many of the President's financial advisors, including Treasury Secretary William Simon and Budget Chief James T. Lynn, oppose it.

I can certainly understand their reservations, since the avowed purpose of EIA would be to offer loans, loan guarantees, and other types of financial assistance to energy projects which are either too risky or too expensive for private enterprise to tackle on its own.

I think it is realistic to foresee, as many critics have already done, that many of these "risky" loans will default, and it will be necessary for EIA to make up the difference by returning a profit on the other loans and investments it makes.

Yet everyone supporting the plan says that the new agency would not compete with private companies in their efforts to create useful, workable energy alternatives.

Furthermore, the original $100 billion to set the program in motion would, in effect, soak up investment capital already scarce right now just as if the federal government increased its deficit by that amount and spent the money outright.

Also, I feel another bureaucracy coming on. The corporation would have the authority to review energy conservation projects and proposals made by private business and determine which projects are worthy of federal financial assistance.

The Administration admits, however, that the magical formula by which this determination and all other decisions will be made by EIA has not been found.

In the President's defense, I must say, nonetheless, that his other more realistic proposals have met with considerable congressional stubbornness, and I know that he is deeply concerned, as I am, that if we don't act soon, it will be too late.

And there is no doubt that some federal expenditures will be necessary if we are to ultimately work our way out of the crisis.

This $100 billion plan, spread over 10 years, would, according to the White House's calculations, stimulate new energy production equivalent to 10-15 million barrels of oil a day by 1985 and virtually eliminate the need for oil imports.

Without an energy policy or plan, we are expected to INCREASE our oil imports by 50 percent of our consumption by the 1985 date, from our present import level of 37 percent.

Another important aspect of the plan to bear in mind is that, although EIA might back risky projects, they might be just those such as synthetic fuels from coal, shale oil, and solar energy which will ultimately solve our problems.

You may be certain that I shall be monitoring all developments with the President's recommendation very closely. While I appreciate his efforts, I remain concerned about the high cost and possible bureaucratic interference which would result from the creation of the Energy Independence Agency.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, Sea Coast Echo,

In reference to the October 17, 1975 Homecoming Activities of Bay St. Louis Senior High School, the Hancock County Branch Chapter of the NAACP join students, parents, and concerned black citizens of the Bay St. Louis community in saying that, "we were pacified by the interjection of one black participant in the court, but we are not satisfied." It took the efforts of the NAACP to get this representation.

In view of the fact that the school has a white majority, we feel it is of great necessity to change the voting procedure. We will not go year after year with one token representative.

How can we get a decent number of girls chosen to represent the black populace of the school, when the Senior High School employs a record low number of two black teachers. How can we get representation, decent or otherwise, when the attitude of some of our instructors is that they could care less if the black girls participated. But if they feel this way, we can say these people are for self only and know not what it is to be a part of a special event, nor do they have children with a desire to participate.

How can we invite the Navy into our community when one of our problems is a one-sided school system. Is the school system offering quality education, when quality education is not only a basic curriculum but includes extra-curricular and social activities as well. How can the education be of quality when the black students are given tokenism positions.

We sincerely hope that the administration of Bay Senior High will find a way to make for better relations in the school and community.

BACKGROUND ON BUSINESS

GOOD NEWS ABOUT EMPLOYMENT

WHERE THE JOBS ARE

The job outlook for the next quarter is not as grim as many Americans might think. A few companies, in fact, plan on a higher rate of hiring than they did a year ago. Actually, finding a new job depends a lot on the industry you're in and where you look. Here's a regional survey taken by the worldwide temporary help firm, Manpower, Inc., that will show how the U.S. employment outlook shapes up across the country.

NEW ENGLAND REGION
Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont

The results of the Manpower survey in this area show that 64 percent of the companies here expect no employment change for April, May and June. About 19 percent expect decreased employment, and only 8 percent expect to show increases. In New England, the specific industries which forecast marked increases in employment are commercial banking and retail food trade.

MIDDLE ATLANTIC REGION
New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania

In the second quarter of 1975, 64 percent of companies expect no employment change. Of the companies polled, 18 percent expect decreased employment and 7 percent expect gains. Specific industries which predict a marked employment increase are fabricated metal products and retail food trade.

EAST NORTH CENTRAL REGION
Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin

In this region, 67 percent of the companies polled expect no employment change in the second quarter. The industries forecasting marked increases are food and beverage products and retail food trade.

WEST NORTH CENTRAL REGION
Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota

In the second quarter of this year 75 percent of companies polled expect employment to remain about the same. Thirteen percent predict an increase in employment while 11 percent expect a decrease. According to Manpower, Inc., the industries forecasting a marked employment increase are chemical and allied products and commercial banking.

SOUTH ATLANTIC REGION
Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Maryland, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia

In the second quarter this year, 66 percent of the companies polled expect no change in employment. Seventeen percent forecast decreases, and 8 percent forecast marked increases in this area.

EAST SOUTH CENTRAL REGION
Alabama, Kentucky, Mississippi, Tennessee

Projections for employment stability here are the lowest of all regions at 57 percent. Twenty-three percent expect a decrease and 14 percent an increase in employment. Again, commercial banking and state and local government forecast marked gains in employment.

WEST SOUTH CENTRAL REGION
Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas

For the second quarter, 69 percent of the companies polled in this area predict no employment change. Those forecasting increases and decreases are about the same, at 12 and 13 percent, respectively. Industries expecting a significant employment increase are food and beverage products and state and local government.

MOUNTAIN REGION
Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah, Wyoming

The Manpower poll reveals that 69 percent of the companies in this region expect no employment change for April, May and June. Fourteen percent predict increased employment, and 10 percent see decreases. The specific industries expecting marked employment increases are finance, insurance and real estate, and retail food trade.

PACIFIC REGION
Alaska, California, Hawaii, Oregon, Washington

For the second quarter, 62 percent of the companies in this region predict no employment change, but 19 percent forecast drops in employment. Among the 13 percent expecting marked employment increases are chemical and allied products and food and beverage products.

Make Home Modernization Asset Rather Than Liability

Skilled remodelers sometimes mold older homes into modern counterparts in the same way nature uses metamorphosis to change a homely caterpillar into an attractive butterfly.

A 70-year-old, two-and-a-half story "senior citizen" in Cleveland Heights, Ohio is a case in point. Its owner, Robert Becht, decided that extensive modernization, inside and out would iron out the wrinkles and restore the house to life.

Bringing the home up to date required the replacement of some old windows and doors with new ones. In one major change, two upstairs bedrooms were remodeled into a large master bedroom with adjacent bath and dressing room. An old bay window was replaced by a rectangular-shaped box window, which not only enlarged the living space of the master bedroom, but opened the room to more natural light and improved the view. The new box window consists of five casement windows.

Another change involved replacing an outdated porch with a new entryway, consisting of a redwood deck and a new door topped by a pair of awning windows, which can be opened out for ventilation even when it's raining. Awning windows were also used in the front wall of the attic that was redesigned into living space. The use of windows on all three stories extends the sense of openness along a vertical line from the attic to the front door.

The Perma-Shield casement and awning windows manufactured by Andersen Corporation of Bayport, Minn., were selected for their versatility. Besides good ventilation, these windows offer homeowners and remodelers the additional benefits of easy-care, long-lasting rigid vinyl. This tough sheath of vinyl, which covers the wood frame and sash, won't rust, pit or corrode. Double-pane insulating glass, standard in Perma-Shield windows, reduces heat loss through the glass areas while simplifying maintenance. The factory-applied vinyl weatherstripping assures snug-fitting windows.

Replacing an outdated porch with a redwood deck, repainting the siding and adding a new front door completed the exterior redesign of the Cleveland Heights home. Indoors, warm yellows and cool whites create a cheery atmosphere.

Crisp Fall Days Prompt New Meal-Planning Ideas

MISSISSIPPI STATE — As cool evenings and crisp fall days arrive, cooking ideas are turning to less expensive cuts of meat which simmer for long periods of time filling the house with a delicious aroma. The relaxed pace prompts new ideas for meal planning.

Take advantage of the low cost per serving of such beef cuts as chuck and brisket, urges Mrs. Ann Rushing, marketing specialist, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. These cuts of meat require braising, cooking in liquid, for the end result to be a tender cut of meat. Or marinating may be used if you wish to broil a chuck steak.

THE EMERGENCY RELIEF FUND - A UNITED WAY AGENCY - HELPS THOSE WHO HAVE SPECIAL NEEDS.

Experiment with new ideas. When making soups try new combinations and then freeze some for later meals. There's nothing like a soup, salad and homemade bread dinner.

When it comes to dessert time have a "do-it-yourself" fondue, suggests the specialist: Cut unpeeled apples into large chunks and dunk into a caramel sauce (one-third cup water plus one 14 oz. bag of caramels melted) which is kept warm in a fondue pot. Then dip this into either chopped peanuts or toasted coconut. Your family will ask for a repeat performance!

Extensive remodeling turned something old (above) into something new (right). Highlighting the contemporary look is a column effect created with new windows and entryway. The Perma-Shield awning and casement windows by Andersen Corp. offer good ventilation, easy-care and long lasting rigid vinyl.

MARRIAGE AND FAMILY COUNSELLING IS PROVIDED BY CATHOLIC SOCIAL SERVICES - A UNITED WAY AGENCY.

What's new in business

Every woman can be beautiful!

If you don't believe it, just ask Jewell Fondren, owner of the new Merle Norman cosmetic studio at 151 Main Street in Bay Saint Louis. She's an expert on beauty.

In an effort to offer her customers the very latest information on makeup artistry and complexion care, Mrs. Fondren has just completed an intensive three-week training course at the home office of Merle Norman Cosmetics in Los Angeles.

Included in the special training she received were classes in up-to-the-minute cosmetic and makeup techniques and basic complexion care, as well as advance information on new looks in cosmetics and fashions for the months ahead.

"When a customer first visits my Studio," Mrs. Fondren explains, "she is given a free demonstration in the Merle Norman method of cosmetic application and skin care. Then I create a special makeup for her, tailored to her specific needs."

"Developing every woman's maximum potential for beauty is part of the Merle Norman philosophy," she says. "For the customer, that means learning how to look her very best. For me, it means helping her do so."

Tips For Veterans

Applications for educational loans up to a maximum of $600 in one academic year for veterans attending school under the GI Bill are now being processed by the Veterans Administration.

A new Public Law enacted in December provided for the loan program which began January 1. All eligible veterans, wives, widows and children will be considered for initial loans based upon the full amount of their tuition and all other cost of attendance anticipated for the entire academic year.

Those granted loans will be required to sign promissory notes agreeing to repayment of principal plus eight percent interest which will not accrue on the loan balance until the required beginning date of repayment. Repayment installments must begin nine months after the student ceases at least half-time enrollment, with full payment within 10 years and nine months.

A three percent loan fee will be deducted from the approved loan amount to provide a fund to insure against defaults under the loan program.

Applicants must have exhausted all efforts to obtain student loans from HEW or other lending institutions granting government-guaranteed student loans, and must provide records of denials for such loans. Students must list all assets, courses of study, and all charges. The school must certify the student's course of study and all tuition and other charges.

Many veterans of the Vietnam Era are eligible for additional GI Bill training benefits from the Veterans Administration, even though they may have previously used all of their entitlement. According to Chester L. Curvey Veterans Service Officer for Hancock County, some veterans may now be eligible for as much as nine months additional training time.

Public Law 93-508 was enacted by the Congress on December 3, 1974, and provided for a maximum of 45 months training time for veterans. Under previous laws, a veteran was entitled to a maximum of 36 months training time if he was in military service for 18 months or longer.

The recent legislation was rather restrictive, however, and is not applicable to all veterans. Public Law 93-508 authorized an additional nine months for those who were originally eligible for 36 months, and whose entitlement was exhausted while enrolled in a bachelor or other first degree program. In such instances, the veteran may use the additional nine months to pursue his degree program. This additional nine months cannot be used to pursue a graduate degree.

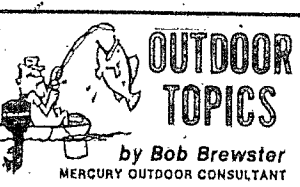

A veteran may use his VA educational benefits any time within ten years following his discharge or release from military service, if he was released since June 1, 1960. Those discharged prior to that date have ten years from June 1, 1966, to use their eligibility, which means that such entitlement will expire on May 31, 1976.

Additional information on GI Bill training may be obtained from your local Veterans Service Officer.

OLD CANE POLES NEVER DIE

Sometimes it's fun to try and be a kid again. If you're successful, for a little while the cares and pressures of life will slip away and you can enjoy a brief return to more simple days.

One of the most pleasurable experiences any youngster had was to take a cane pole, some worms, a cork bobber... and go fishing. While cork bobbers are a thing of the past, the cane pole is still with us, and it can be used to fish places that are unreachable with other equipment.

Although they had to practice for a while, having grown accustomed to more sophisticated gear, the outdoor recreation staff at Mercury outdoors recently tried cane pole fishing and relearned the art of using this "kids" method.

Selecting the correct bamboo rod is important. It has to be stout and have the proper length. Look for a 12 to 14-foot pole that isn't warped and that has no cracks. Heft it to test for balance; you should be able to hold the rod comfortably with one hand.

River fishermen use cane poles for fishing behind road wrecks and around downed trees. Pockets of deep water often form where trees are swept into a stream, and these are ideal sites for bass, walleye, and trout.

If there's a current, you'll need to get the bait quickly down to the bottom where it'll stay without washing beneath the tree and becoming tangled. Use a heavy, bell-shaped sinker and omit any bobber. In calm water, use only the amount of sinker needed to put the bait under water.

If you're worm fishing, clip on the smallest plastic bobber you can find. If minnows are your bait, use a bobber large enough that the minnow will not pull it beneath the surface as it swims about.

When a fish strikes, raise the pole quickly to set the hook and keep your catch from going beneath the tree.

Cane pole angling is the kind of fishing that calls for fast reflexes — perhaps quicker than many of us old-timers can muster when the action gets hot.

VOTE FOR CHESTER FAVRE

Independent Candidate For Sheriff Of Hancock County

The Following Is My Platform:

(1) Cut the operating expenses of $173,000, of the Sheriff's Department and give the people of Hancock County better service.

(2) Hopefully, I can get the cities of Waveland and Bay St. Louis, to agree to set up one communication headquarters for all three departments. It doesn't make any difference to me who operates it as long as it is operated right. This will save the taxpayers money.

(3) Have one emergency telephone number for the entire county which will include the 2 cities. This number will be put on all emergency vehicles so that the people will remember it and save time in any emergency.

(4) I intend to hire the five Constables, if they want to work for the Sheriff's Department. The present sheriff will not give the constables a commission. It will help to cut operating expenses.

(5) I promise the people of Hancock County, the way I plan to arrange patrolling of the county, that no one will have to wait over 15 minutes for help or service from the Sheriff's Department.

(6) There will be no one in the Sheriff's Department allowed to use obscene language at any time.

(7) If there is a construction company that needs a nagman for traffic purposes, I will try to get these jobs for retired people who are on a fixed income. There are plenty of them able to do this and it will help them financially.

(8) I hope to form a Sheriff's Posse for the county without any expense to the taxpayers. A Flotilla and work diligently with our organizations and individuals who operate G-B sets, because I believe that these things can help in search and rescue.

(9) I intend to form a Junior Sheriff's Organization and sponsor one or two Little League Ball Teams.

Thirty years later

Thirty years after World War II, Elvis Necaise received some overdue recognition for his role played in that conflict. Through a series of administrative errors, these medals, which include the Bronze Star, were not being worn by their rightful owner but lay forgotten until the VFW service section completed delivery. Dominic Lepert, past department commander, is here congratulating Necaise following the presentation by State Commander Eddie Migues at ceremonies Saturday in Kiln.

News about your mansion

By Carroll Waller

Folks seem surprised that the family now living in your Mansion is typical in that they have a small, feisty dog and two white cats in residence.
The children have always had pets and the current three moved with us to the Mansion in May. Any visitor walking through the garden is likely to see one or all of them.

With all the comings and goings of getting moved in, having opening receptions and then almost daily tours, poor Spot didn't quite know where to find a safe place. In the process of adjusting he was accidentally run over by cars twice before finally learning to stay close to the boys when they were home and in a corner when they weren't.

Gardenia spent the first several days she was here up the chimney turning instantly from all-white to all-black.
Her first litter of five kittens made the move to the Mansion but by the end of the first week four had been adopted into good homes.

Skezik who remained is a happy-go-lucky type who entertains visitors and loves to pose for pictures. Through some unknown process he came up with a broken leg recently but has recovered nicely. He really made a hit Senior Citizens Day when he found his way upstairs and was discovered hanging off between two posts of the grand stairway looking down at the crowds below.

The Salvation Army had a very nice reception at the Mansion this week. One special feature was a display of dolls that had been dressed by Auxiliary members. These will be given through the Christmas clearing house to make dreams come true for many little girls.

Our second special football day is scheduled for Saturday, October 25, when Jackson State University alumni will have an open house at the Mansion. Visitors will have the opportunity to meet a current student, Miss Helen Ford, who has recently been named Miss Black America.

Dates are being worked out for the other schools as they play football games in Jackson.

The cooler weather is bringing some changes in our garden. The tulip bulbs that will flower around the fountain in the spring have arrived and been properly stored until planting time. The bulbs have been given by the Beth Israel Sisterhood here in Jackson and by the Holland Flower Bulb Specialists, Inc., of New Jersey.

Country and western makes Star theatre debut

A County and Gospel Music Show, scheduled for 2 to 5 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 26 at the Star Theatre, marks the theatre's debut into live stage productions.

Sponsored by Radio WPUP, the show will feature local artists from both Mississippi and Louisiana and will be carried by the station in direct transmission from the theatre.

Barry King, owner of the Star, said yesterday that he is about half way through his renovation program and that refurbishment efforts were now being concentrated on the theatre seats and the front of the building.

"When we have completed
our refurbishment program we will offer an attractive physical plant, as well as first class entertainment," Barry said.

The new owner said he had inherited some problems that were "a little greater than first realized," but added, "I think we have ironed out the trouble spots and all performances should run smoothly from here on out."

Barry made reference to one or two shows that had experienced projection delays but, with the arrival of spare machine parts, stated this trouble had also been abated.

"Another area we are now providing attention to is the adequate training of new employees, and this too will result in smoother operations," Barry said.

Barry also announced the introduction of another Star service, a listing of movie titles expected over the next month.

Immunization action month

Children need vaccinations

People don't worry much about childhood diseases any more, but according to the Mississippi State Board of Health, they should.

Dr. Durward Blakey, Chief of the Bureau of Disease Control, stated that outbreaks of preventable diseases, such as polio and measles could once again strike the nation's young unless more children are vaccinated.

To alert people to the problem and to explain the solution, the State Board of Health, the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, organized medicine, industry and volunteer groups are participating in Immunization Action Month, a time when extensive efforts are made to inform people about the potential dangers of childhood diseases and to urge parents to make sure their children are fully immunized.

The campaign is being carried out during the month of October.

"Many parents today don't remember the devastating epidemics of paralytic polio of the 1950's," Dr. Blakey said,
"and aren't aware of the real dangers of measles, rubella and other childhood diseases.

Many believe that the diseases have been completely eradicated and that there is no need to worry about them any more."

"This simply isn't true," he continued. "Far too many children are not being vaccinated until they reach school age, and many are not receiving all their vaccinations even then."

"As a result, children still die from these diseases, still are permanently crippled by them, and the danger of local epidemics continues," he said.
"There is a large number of children, particularly those four years old and younger who could become the target of local, rapidly spreading outbreaks."

"The only way to prevent epidemics," Dr. Blakey said,
"is by vaccinating enough children so that these diseases won't have a chance to spread.
Our long-term goal is to achieve more effective disease control by improved surveillance, effective containment, and achieving and maintaining high immunity levels populations of greatest risk—particularly preschool children—against measles, rubella, polio, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough."

"That goal," he added, "will not be easy to achieve. Our records show that only 48.5 percent of two-year-olds in Mississippi have been immunized with the basic diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis vaccination."

Dr. Blakey urged parents to check their children's immunization records to make sure that all vaccinations have been completed. Unvaccinated children, he said, should be taken to their physician or health department to become fully protected.

A learned man is an idler who kills time by study.

Phobophobia is the fear of fear itself.

OLG parents stage penny party

Last summer the O.L.G. Parents Club installed carpet throughout classrooms at Our Lady of the Gulf School. Although the carpet is green, the club's account is in the red. To remedy this situation and balance the carpet account, the Parents Club will hold its annual Halloween Penny Party October 30, from noon until 3 p.m.

Mrs. Joseph Gex, Halloween Penny Party Chairman, said there will be something for everyone. "While Mom and Dad are browsing for bargains among shops stocked with goods such as plants, handmade items, used toys, books and posters, jewelry, and the ever popular White Elephant the youngsters can be having fun playing games," she said.

Penrose infant receives baptism

Mary Catherine Penrose, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norvin Penrose Jr., was baptized Sunday at Christ Episcopal Church with Rev. Charles R. Johnson, rector, officiating.

Godparents are Mrs. Sandy Brenske, Mrs. Helen Penrose and Bud Moran.

Following the ceremony a family gathering was held at the Penrose home.

Here's where to install grab bars in showers: 56 to 60 inches high, or just above the soap dish.

Activities include a fish pond for the very young, grab bag, money toss, tricky ball game, double-dragon game, spinning wheel and Spook House.

Cotton candy, candied apples, cakes, candies and drinks will be the refreshments.

VFW scholarship competition open to high school students

"Students win more than awards and scholarships when they participate in the V.F.W. Voice of Democracy Scholarship Program," said Commander Bermond of V.F.W. Post 3253, in discussing the annual broadcast scriptwriting program conducted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Some of the fringe benefits, according to Commander Bermond are increased self-confidence and poise, experience in communicating with others and valuable training in self expression. For the state winners, there is also the broadening experience of a five-day tour of Washington, D. C., and the opportunity to make lasting friendships with the other state winners.

In the 14 years that the Veterans of Foreign Wars has been sole sponsor of the Voice of Democracy Program, more than 3,000,000 high school students have participated. Participants write and then tape record a three-to-five minute broadcast script expressing their views on "What Our Bicentennial Heritage Means to Me." From among the state winners, five national winners are chosen to receive a total of $22,500 in scholarships.

"One of the greatest benefits to young people who take part in the program is that by thinking, writing and speaking on their understanding of our Bicentennial Heritage, they gain a better appreciation of their obligation to maintain our freedom heritage," Commander Bermond said.

For details students should contact their school principal, or local V.F.W. Post.

Ladner statement

Hancock County Board Attorney Sam Favre said this week he did not make any statement either privately or publicly that inter-fund loans by the board were illegal.

Finch campaigns

at Gumbo Festival

Cliff Finch, Democratic nominee for Governor of the State of Mississippi, made several campaign appearances in Hancock County Saturday.

Finch witnessed the mortgage burning ceremony at the Veterans of Foreign Wars post in Kiln and spoke briefly over radio station WPUP.

Following his participation in festivities at the White Cypress Gumbo Festival, he climaxed his visit, the 11th to this county, with a tour of Diamondhead.

Favre made the statement in reference to a personal political ad which appeared last week paid for by Beat One Supervisor Jerry Ladner which claimed Favre made the statement that all inter-fund loans were illegal.

"What I did say, and Mr. Ladner knows this," Favre said, "is that inter-fund loans to finance deficit spending during the last quarter of any calendar year of an election was illegal."

Blending Tradition And Progress

Progress means more than just the passing of time... it means learning new and better ways to do things. Since we began serving families in Bay St. Louis-Waveland and Hancock County, we've dedicated ourselves to keeping our service and facilities up-to-date while retaining the warmth and caring of yesterday.

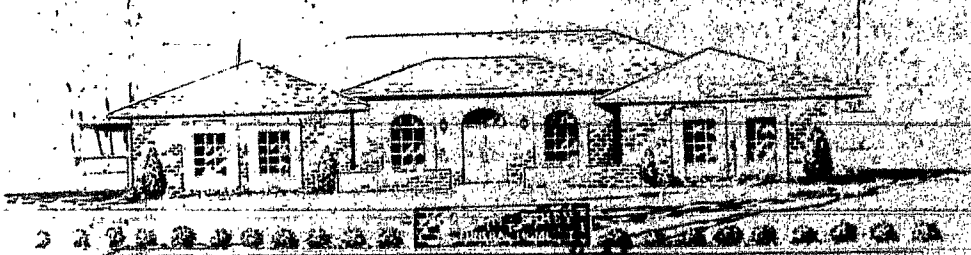

To assure the comfort and convenience of everyone, we've constructed a new facility with ample space for off-street parking. And in designing the building, we included the first formal chapel in any funeral home in Hancock County.

Our fleet of the latest automotive equipment is always well-maintained, and we provide each family with a comfortable, dignified limousine.

While we're proud of our facilities and equipment, we know that funeral service is basically a matter of "people helping people." We have a local resident manager and staff in Bay St. Louis who are supported by 28 experienced professionals at our other locations. We even have a full-time person to handle all necessary work at the cemetery.

To help families complete their financial plans, we offer a comprehensive funeral insurance program which has made it possible for over 6,000 Hancock County residents to have such insurance. Our pre-arrangement plan is the only one in the county in which all funds are deposited in trust with the Hancock Bank.

We're honored when a family turns to us. By blending tradition and progress, we want to serve in a way that will let them know they made the right choice.

Waveland PTO votes $400 for reading program

The Waveland Elementary School PTO Monday evening voted overwhelmingly to spend $400 on an additional Alpha-One Reading Program to supplement the Alpha-Time and Houghton-Mifflin programs.

On another note, principal Douglas McQueen told those assembled the school would reapply to retain its present Class A rating, following a recent visitation from the state evaluation committee. "Because Waveland has all teachers with Bachelors degrees, but not enough with Master's degrees," said McQueen, "we decided to apply to retain our class A rating."

McQueen reported that the committee was well pleased with Waveland School and members told him the school had more to offer than some Class AA schools.

"We now have several teachers working on Master's Degrees," said McQueen, "and when they receive them we hope to reapply for a Class AA rating."

He announced that though the recommendations were not mandatory, the committee did say that Waveland could use more classroom space for its educational television program viewing as well as more space for special education, remedial reading and math programs.

Waveland School is presently using the bookroom as an educational TV viewing room and various offices are used for remedial reading and math. It was also recommended by the committee that the school have a blacktop surface for basketball and other physical education activities. This recommendation, also, was not mandatory.

Recognition was given to various parents and teachers for assistance to the school. Susan Bourn and Debbie Powell were cited for serving as classroom assistants. Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Powell were thanked for donating a projector and screen to the school. Jewel Bourn was recognized for his work and time given to build bicycle racks for the school with materials furnished by the PTO.

Mrs. Diane Karl, Mrs. Carolyn Langenbacker and teachers Chris Thomann and Mrs. Charlotte Johnson were recognized for their assistance with concession stands at school football events.

Mrs. Manuel Poyadue, Ann Cuevas, Dee Barnett, Beverly Binegar and Shirley Matthews were recognized for their work with Waveland's Cub Scout Pack. McQueen stated two more volunteers were still needed to work with the Brownies as well as several parents to work with him on a Curriculum Committee.

Ms. Chris Thomann and Mrs. Coral Gaudet were named teachers of the month and section one of the first grade received the prize for best attendance of parents at the PTO meeting.

A NOTE TO A YELLOW-BELLIED COWARD:

I don't know who you are - but you know who you are. I just hope that you get to read this note.

You have torn down, torn up, and burned my campaign signs about as fast as they can be made and put up. You have attempted to spread slanderous rumors, and you've made threatening telephone calls to me. But if you think that you are intimidating me and that maybe I'll quit, you have another think coming, Coward! I'll fight all the harder now to give my services, for whatever they might be worth, to the people of Hancock County! So go ahead and tear my posters down. Go ahead and burn my signs. It won't stop me from running, and, if it happens that the people see fit to elect me, you will not be able to keep me from serving and doing the JOB for the people!

Just what are you really so afraid of? Is it that you think that there is a chance that somebody who will really be working for the people and who will not make under-the-table deals might get into office?

not tall, but then he's not short either. He's both right and left handed, admires Howard Cosell and has been known to dunk donuts in his coffee with vigor.

Occasionally he will repeat a question to himself before he delivers the answer. He is not a St. Stanislaus graduate, nor is he a Ladner, Necaise, Haas or Gex.

We hope this information will quench this insatiable appetite some persons have to unmask our best known forecaster, and now for this week's games.

SPORT TALK Q & A

By Charlie Henderson

QUESTION: How come the defensive lineman in football is allowed to hit the offensive lineman, but the latter can't hit back?

ANSWER: It's just one of those rules to help the defense. Deacon Jones, while he was with the Los Angeles Rams, refined the head slap into a fine art that helped to make him the game's top defensive end. He was so good at repeated hits that a new rule was passed because of him to limit defensive lineman to one slap.

QUESTION: Who was the player on the Oakland Raiders that Alex Karras called the man from the University of Mars?

ANSWER: The man is Oakland's Pro Bowl Defensive tackle, Otis Sistrunk, the one with the gleaming pate like Telly Savalas. Sistrunk, who never went to college, played minor league ball, failed a couple of tryouts and was getting another with the Los Angeles Rams in 1972 when Al Davis, a great judge of talent, spotted him. Sistrunk couldn't break into the Rams front four then, so coach Tommy Prothro traded Otis for a third round draft choice. Oakland's Davis calls it one of his better deals, with good reason.

Lightning Bar Tag eclipses Leroy's Man

PEARL RIVER, La. - Two horses owned by Lesli Dedeaux and trained by Larry Favre, both of Hancock County, won races Sunday at Oak Downs. Two other Hancock County horses also were victorious.

Lightning Bar Tag continued to win at the Louisiana track with a close victory over Leroy's Man in the 200-yard second race. Margin of victory was by two hundredths of a second.

Another Dedeaux-Favre entry, Lady Bars Leo, captured the 350-yard seventh race. Lady Bars Leo (19.50) defeated The Duck (19.94) and John Slidell.

Doodle Bug, owned and trained by James Watson of Bay St. Louis, easily won the 220-yard first race against Kitten Tabasco.

Bam Bars, owned by Mike Kirkland, took the four horse three-furlong 10th race with a 37.97 clocking.

Go Popper Go, owned and trained by Charles Eason of Taylorsville, Miss., was timed in 20.94 seconds for 400 yards in the fourth race and replaced Jonage Star as holder of the best clocking at that distance during the 1975 meet.

Previous meet record was 20.975, set by Jonage Star on Aug. 24.

The track record for 400 yards is 20.58 (Class AAA), set April 23, 1972, by the famous Jack The Ripper, owned and trained by Ramsey Cameron Jr. of Hancock County.

The other Class AA time run Sunday was an 18.51 performance by Tail Win in the 350-yard 15th race. Owned by Elmo Harless of Hattiesburg, Miss., Tail Win has won seven straight races since returning to action two months ago after being afforded a rest.

Quick Quiz!

Distances are sometimes deceiving. To be able to see just the tip of a 200 foot oil rig that is 54 miles out at sea, how high above sea level would you have to be (a) 62 feet (b) 262 feet (c) 1,662 feet?

ANSWER

"C" is correct. You would have to be standing 1,662 feet above sea level. That means that if you stood on top of the Empire State Building, you would still need a 412 foot ladder to see even the tip of that oil rig.

TO THE YOUNG PEOPLE OF HANCOCK COUNTY:

I have heard a lot about the harassment of the young people in Hancock County, by the Sheriff's Department, but until it happened to my own boys and their friends, I could not put it into print.

We had one of my sister's boys, with a friend of his, visiting us from Florida. They were driving a Blue Cadillac Convertible. The boys decided to go out on the new public pier at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. They parked the car on the beach and walked out on the pier. Two Deputy Sheriffs followed them to the end of the pier and asked them who owned the Cadillac. One of the boys said he did but my nephew was driving. Then they asked the boys if they were going to sleep out there that night. My nephew informed them that they were staying at my boys' house.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon, I'm sure that I could find more for my deputy sheriffs to do than to worry about where four young men were going to sleep that night.

The only conclusion that I arrived at, is that they were being harassed because they were young people and had long hair. I hope the young people of Hancock County will go and vote in the General Election, Nov. 4, 1975, for Chester Favre who promises the young people in our county to help them in any way that he can.

Pearl takes to road against Northeast

POPLARVILLE - Pearl River College's Wildcats, ranked second in the Mississippi Junior College South Division standings, behind undefeated Gulf Coast, will have a short practice week as they will travel to Booneville this Thursday to take on the Northeast Tigers.

The Wildcats, sporting a 4-2 record and a sparkling 34-0 homecoming victory last Saturday night, over the Holmes Bulldogs, will be having light practice all week as they prepare for their North Division foe.

Pearl River played with seven starters out this past week, and according to head coach J. C. Arban, five will warm the bench this Thursday. Those returning after a week of recuperation are Larry Harvey, Columbia, at defensive end and tight end; Clark Stuart, Petal, at tackle; and, Charles Franklin of Foxworth at defensive back; Eddie Jones, DE; Gary Miller, guard; Robert Hudson, defensive back and receiver, along with running back Kenny Knight, will see no action. Floyd Masoner, defensive tackle, is a doubtful performer.

Arban called the Saturday night win a good effort by the Wildcats, however, he thought they should have scored more points. "We hit and played well," Arban commented, "but a few mental mistakes stymied our offense in the first half."

"We need to prove to our supporters that we are a good football team," the head coach said. "A lot of good things were said about us last week even after our defeat at the hands of Gulf Coast - a good homecoming effort was mandatory."

"Northeast has some of the best athletes they have had in years, but to look at the record you could not prove it," Arban said. Northeast has won only one game in six starts. However, two of their contests have ended in ties.

Arban viewed the Tigers as hurting themselves as much as the opposition has during the year. "They are trying to run the veer, just as us, but to date they have committed too many fumbles and bad pitch outs."

"They do know how and when to use the different veer plays and that is the secret of the offense. I just hope they do not get all together against us."

Pearl River is presently in second place in their southern division. Followed by Co-Lin, Jones, Hinds and Southwest. Itawamba and East Central are tied for the northern lead. Northeast is in fifth place in their division.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

Forget about the big ones that get away. A good landing net is a most useful piece of equipment when used properly. Many large fish are lost by lifting them up by the line. Take your time. Don't get excited. When properly hooked they won't get off. The main thing is to set the hook. Give them a second jerk if necessary.

Be sure a season is open before going hunting. Game wardens have job to do. You can help them by obeying the law. Make it easy on yourself.

Enjoyed a visit Sunday from my daughter, June, Dan Alene and Peggy. Had dinner at Broadwater. Was quite a treat.

The squirrel season opens soon. Squirrel are most everywhere. Go in the woods, sit still and they will come to you. It is one of the easiest methods of hunting. And squirrel make a delicious

The only way you can save hunting and fishing for the, your sons, is to help educate non-hunters and fishermen.

Braves Make Baseball History With Batgirl

ATLANTA, Ga. — The Atlanta Braves will make sports history Saturday, August 16, when a 19-year-old Stone Mountain, Georgia girl will become the first female ever to serve as a major league baseball team's batperson.

Carol Elaine Lightfoot, a Braves fanatic who professes love for the team "whether they win the pennant or not" was awarded the honor as winner of the Star Brite Batboy/Batgirl Contest, sponsored by the Miami-based manufacturer of automobile and marine polish.

"I watch every Braves game on television," she said, "but I've only seen one Braves game in person and that was from way up in the stands where you really couldn't see the faces of the players."

Braves manager Clyde King said he was happy that the Braves were able to take the lead among major league batpersons.

"We are pleased to have a pretty young lady on the field as the first batgirl in the big leagues," King said. "It certainly won't bother us having Carol around."

"In fact, it sounds like something that might be done more frequently," said the Braves manager.

The five-foot-six blue-eyed brunette says she is really not concerned with what her appearance may do for the women's liberation movement.

"It is kind of exciting, though, to be the first girl ever in a major league dugout," she said with a chuckle.

Carol will be decked out in a Braves uniform for her stint of keeping the bats in order during the game against the St. Louis Cardinals Saturday night. "But they won't need to give me a Braves cap," she said. "I already have one."

Carol, who will be an eighth grader at Trickett Middle School in Stone Mountain this fall, says she has a little trouble deciding who her favorite Braves player is. "I like Marty Perez, Darrell Evans and Phil Niekro pretty well, but I guess I really like every one of them."

As part of her prize for winning the contest, Carol and her family will be weekend guests of Star Brite, the Braves and WTCG-TV, the Atlanta station which originates the Braves telecasts.

Carol says she isn't a member of an organized team herself, but that she plays a lot of softball with her neighborhood friends. "My mom was a softball player when she was younger and we have a lot of trophies at home which she won," she said.

It's a sure thing that a few mementos of the Atlanta Braves will soon join those trophies on the Lightfoot mantel.

Season not open

We erred last week in our column with the announcement that squirrel season had already opened in Mississippi.

Actually, the season is not open until Nov. 1 according to spokesmen for the Mississippi State Game and Fish Commission.
